

JAPANESE
Believe Togo Will Postpone Attack

Until Rojestvensky is in Jap Waters

ST. PETERSBURG IS EXCITED

Russian Fleet Anchored Off
One of Anamba Islands
--Movement of the Ships.

London, April 10.—The opinion is expressed at the Japanese embassy here today that Togo will not attack Rojestvensky until the latter has reached Japanese waters.

Secretary Koike says: "If the opportunity occurs, Togo will certainly attempt to torpedo the Russian fleet by units, but it is my belief that Togo will wait till the Russians reach the neighborhood of Formosa or Japan before delivering a general assault."

RUSSIANS EXCITED.
St. Petersburg, April 10.—The most intense excitement prevails here. The people are all waiting with feverish anxiety for news of the fleet. If Rojestvensky can elude Togo entirely and reach the Japanese coast, or defeat the enemy's fleet, the Russians' position would be helped wonderfully. On the other hand the meaning of a decisive defeat is well understood.

CZAR'S FLEET LOCATED.
London, April 10.—A dispatch to Lloyd's from Singapore today said the Russian fleet is anchored twenty miles northeast of Manke, one of the Anamba Islands.

Amsterdam, April 10.—A telegram today from Batavia, Java, says the Russian fleet is reported off Banca Island. It is expected the fleet will arrive at Batavia. The belief here is that the fleet is Rojestvensky's squadron, Banca is an island in the Malay archipelago, between Sumatra and Borneo island, and belongs to the Netherlands.

TOWARD ANAMBA ISLANDS.
Singapore, April 10.—It is confirmed that the Russian fleet is headed toward the Anamba Islands. At 1:40 yesterday afternoon the fleet was seen about five miles from Pulauman, one of the group, proceeding toward Pulomenti. Four warships, apparently Japanese vessels, were also seen off Cape St. James, French Cochinchina, April 7. Rear Admiral Enkirst was in command of the Russian squadron that passed here Saturday.

The Anamba Islands are in the China sea, about 150 miles northeast of Singapore. Just what the purpose of the Russian fleet in anchoring near these islands is, if reports to that effect are true, can only be guessed. It is considered likely, however, that one of these islands has been selected by Rojestvensky as a place of rendezvous.

JAPS WANT TO FIGHT.
Tokyo, April 10.—Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron has not been reported by any of Vice Admiral Togo's scouts since they passed Singapore. It is assumed that Rojestvensky will attempt to reach Vladivostok where he can have his four ships docked and prepared for the struggle that awaits them. The Japanese press and public rejoices at the prospect of a battle.

PUT TO SEA

Will the Big Warships at Vladivostok.
Russian Attacks Repulsed—More Peace Talk.

St. Petersburg, April 10.—Naval officials express the opinion that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, having now safely navigated the straits, instead of sailing north to meet the Japanese, can afford to calmly await Vice Admiral Nebogotoff with his division of the squadron, who could arrive there in about three weeks.

It is reported that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's entrance into the China sea has been followed by official orders for the cruisers Gromobol, Rossiya and Bogatyr, which have been ready for some time at Vladivostok, to put to sea. Whether it is the intention to send them south immediately or to hold them in the vicinity of Vladivostok is not known. Their appearance outside the roadstead of Vladivostok would constitute a potential threat against Admiral Togo's rear, which will compel the retention in or dispatch of a number of heavy fighting ships to Japanese waters. Thus Admiral Togo seems to be virtually placed between two fires.

The peace influences in the government urge that this favorable strategic position presents the psychological moment for offering officially the olive branch to Japan, reasoning that no matter how confident the Japanese government may be of Togo's victory, it can not overlook the possibility of defeat nor fail to appreciate the complete disaster which would follow the transfer of the mastery of the sea to Russia. With so much depending upon the issue, they argue, both countries have mutual interests in avoiding an actual test, and it is not impossible, therefore, that a new move in the direction of peace may come just as the world expects to hear the call to quarters for the greatest naval battle of modern times. Certainly the spirits of the war party have been greatly raised by Rojestvensky's success in penetrating the China sea.

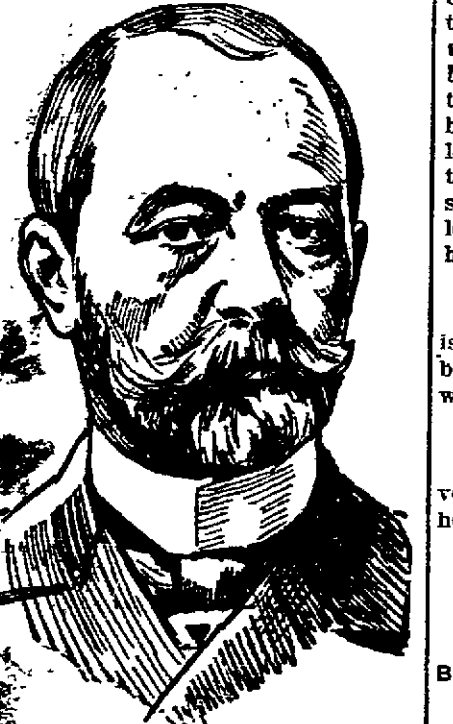

Russian Attacks Repulsed.
Tokyo, April 10.—The following report has been received from Manchurian army headquarters: "April 5 one battalion of the enemy's infantry and six companies of cavalry came and attacked Tsulushu, 20 miles north of Changin. They were repulsed. On the following day 24 companies of the enemy's cavalry with several guns renewed the attack. They were again repulsed. The main force of the assailants retreated toward Pamiencheng. A portion stopped near Choro, three miles north of Tsulushu. Our casualties were 10. No officers were included. The enemy's loss, judging from the corpses left behind and from the number of carts carrying wounded and killed, was over 60."

Fleets Compared.
London, April 10.—The naval force under Admiral Togo is the entire Japanese fleet, as follows: Battleships, 5; armored cruisers, 8; protected cruisers, 15; unprotected cruisers, 7; coast defense vessels, 4; gunboats, 7; torpedo boats, 2; destroyers, 1; total, 67. Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet is composed of the following vessels: Battleships, 6; cruisers, 9; destroyers, 8; volunteeers, 2; colliers, 16; salvage ship, 1; hospital ship, 1; Hansburg line, 2; total, 47.

HOPE FOR BEST

Rojestvensky's Coup Raises War Party's Spirits—Expect to Stem the Tide of Defeat.

Singapore, April 10.—Fifty-one ships of Admiral Rojestvensky's second Pacific squadron passed here. The most important fighting vessels of the squadron, including the battleships Kniaz Souvaroff, Alexander III, Borodino and Orel, with their complements of cruisers, torpedo-boat destroyers, etc., did not arrive, and their whereabouts is unknown.

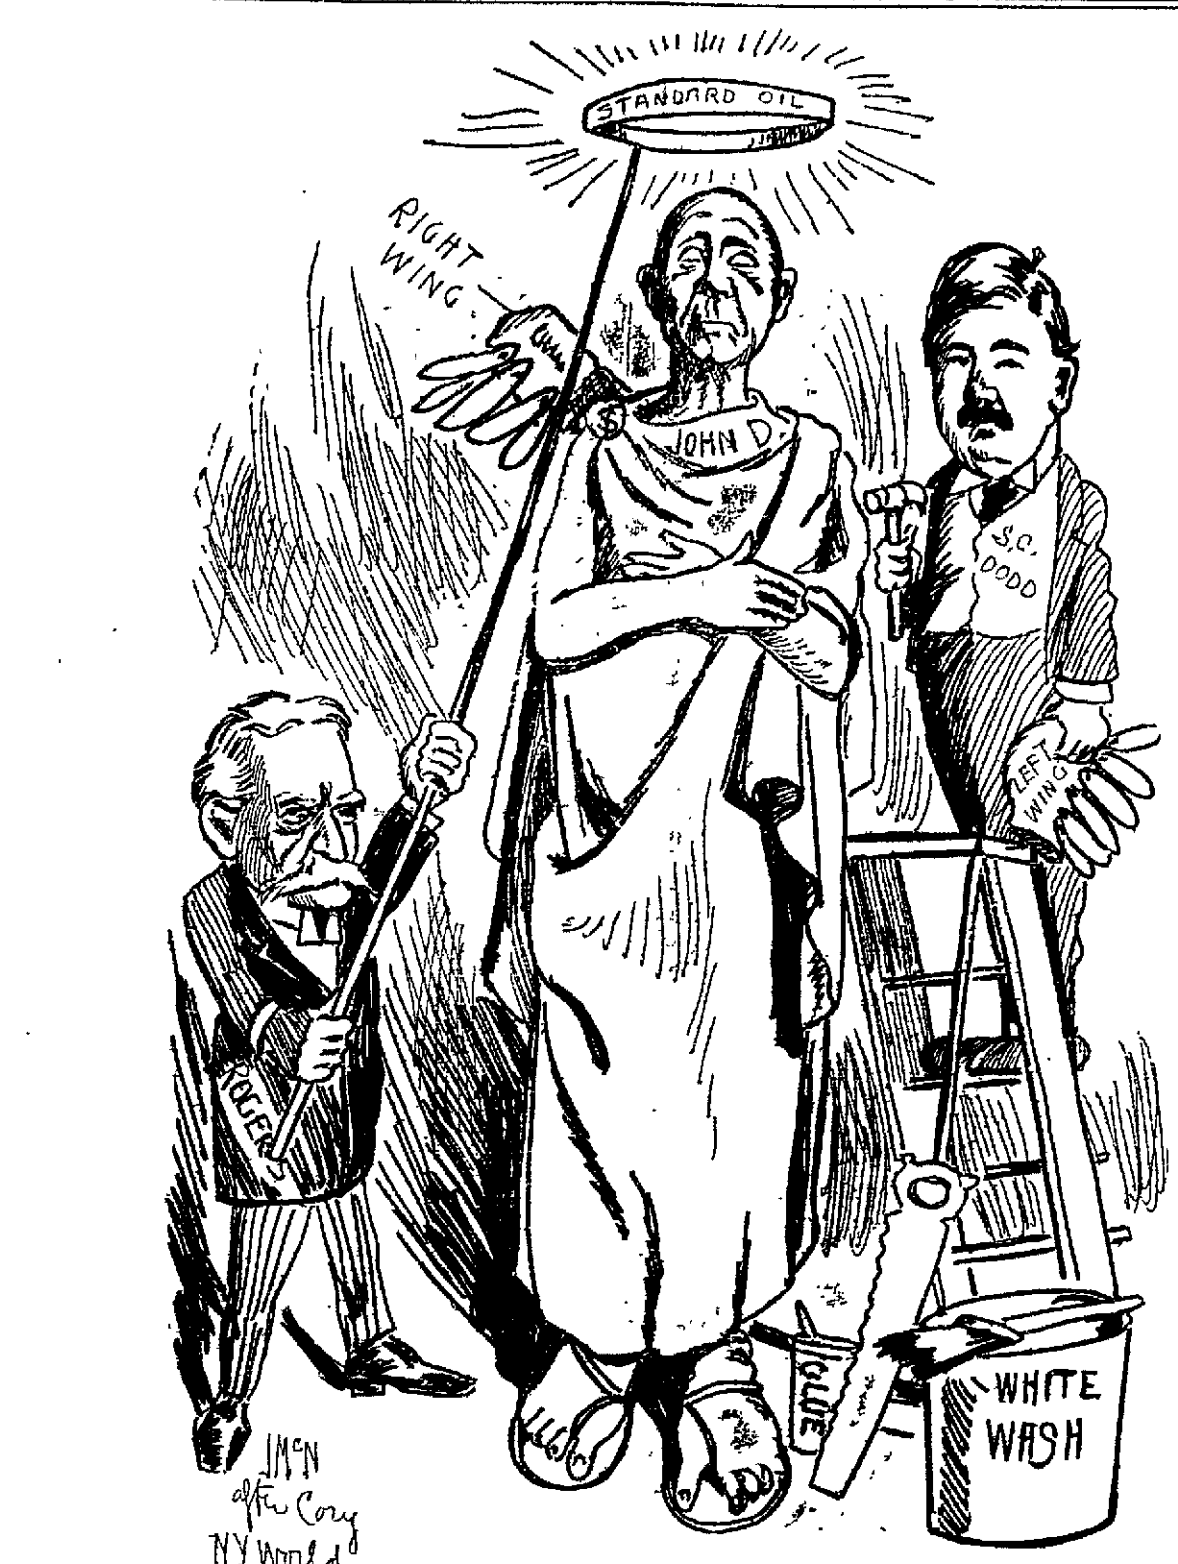

VICE ADMIRAL ROJEDEVSKY.

about is unknown. The vessels which passed Singapore were the following: Battleships, Sissoi Veliky and Oleg; cruisers, Admiral Nakhimoff, Dmitri Donskoi, Aurora, Izumrud, Jemtechug, Alma, Russ, Avadyr, Furst Bismarck, Kaiserin Maria Theresa, Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, Kaiserin Friedrich, Rion, and seven torpedo-boat destroyers, all sailing under the naval flag.

JAP EXPERTS' BELIEF.
Tokyo, April 10.—It is the belief of many naval experts here that Rojestvensky has appointed a second rendezvous in the Pacific and that he will speedily quit the China sea and sail to the east of the Philippines. If Vladivostok is his objective point the Pacific course is favorable for his purpose. The newspapers all express the greatest confidence that Admiral Togo will be able to locate the Russian fleet and defeat it.

DESPONDENCY

PROMPTS AN HEIRESS TO SHOOT HERSELF IN HEAD.

Daughter of New York Bank President Gallaway Had Been Sufferer for Seven Years.

New York, April 10. — Miss Mary Gallaway, 21, daughter of Robert M. Gallaway, president of the Merchants' National bank and a director in many railway companies, killed herself in her room in the Hotel Seville here. Miss Gallaway, who had suffered from dyspepsia for seven years, was attended by two trained nurses. One of these was engaged hanging some clothes in a wardrobe when she heard the sound of a pistol shot, and turning to the bed saw Miss Gallaway, who had been sitting propped up with pillows, fall over. She had shot herself through the mouth, death being instantaneous. Despondency due to long-continued illness is believed to have been the cause of the suicide.

JAPANESE MINISTER ILL.
New York, April 10.—Japanese Minister Takahira is ill at his hotel here but the doctors this morning said he was not dangerously sick.

Home From Florida.
Washington, April 10.—Mrs. Roosevelt and three of her children are home from Florida.

ELECTION CONTESTED

Bribery and Illegal Voting Alleged at Washington C. H.—Suit Filed by Temperance People.

Washington C. H. O., April 10.—The petition contesting the Beal law local option election held in this city on March 30, and which on the face of the returns was carried by the wets by a majority of 40 votes, has been filed by the attorneys for the drys. Bribery and illegal voting are alleged. The petition alleges among other things that 100 and more votes were cast by persons who were not qualified voters of the city on that day, and that had it not been for so counting said votes the election would have been against the sale of intoxicating liquors; that electors and persons were induced to vote for the sale of intoxicating liquors by means of bribes practiced by certain other electors, and that a large number of electors, the names of many of whom are unknown to plaintiffs, combined for the purpose of corrupting, bribing and influencing votes of other electors. The suit is filed in probate court.

POSTPONED ONE WEEK OWING TO EXTRADITION.

District Attorney Jerome Wants the Smith's on Hand When Miss Patterson is Tried.

New York, April 10.—Because of the extradition proceedings in Ohio which seek to bring to this city J. Morgan Smith and his wife, the brother-in-law and sister of Nan Patterson, who is charged with slaying Bookmaker Young, the trial of the actress was postponed this morning for a week. Counsel for the defense made a strong objection to the postponement, but Recorder Goff granted the motion of District Attorney Jerome.

AUTHORITIES ORDER EXPULSION OF ALL CHILDREN

Who Live With Their Parents in Moscow—Extreme Measures Are Taken by Officers.

Berlin, April 10.—A dispatch from Moscow today says that most extreme measures have been taken against the Jews in Russia. The authorities have ordered the expulsion from Moscow of all Jewish children living with their parents on the ground that while permission has been granted to a limited number of Jews to live in the city, the privilege does not extend to their children.

WIFE MURDERER

CRACKED A JOKE ON WAY TO THE ELECTRIC CHAIR.

Martin Ebelit Pays Penalty for Crime Committed on Fourth Day of Last July.

Ossining, N. Y., April 10.—The electric chair in Sing Sing prison claimed its youngest victim this morning, Martin Ebelit, aged 25, confessed wife murderer, paying the penalty of the law for his brutal crime. The electrocution was a success. As the sunlight was streaming through the windows of the prison Warden Johnson and Keeper Connaughton approached Ebelit's cell.

"Many out there?" asked Ebelit, nodding toward the death house.

"Less than a dozen," said Warden Johnson.

"Well, I don't draw very well, do I?" was the condemned man's last gruesome joke as the death march was started with Rev. Fathers Mahoney and Martin, his spiritual advisers on either side. Near the chair he faltered for a moment, but the firm touch of Father Mahoney brought back his courage and with a look at the crucifix in his left hand he stepped quickly to the side of the chair, muttering a prayer.

FIVE SPOT RAISED

Dollar Silver Certificate Made Into a V Taken Up by Secret Service Detectives.

Washington, April 10.—A $1 silver certificate, raised to $5, was taken up by the secret service men at Louisville. The certificate is of the series of 1899. The spread eagle in the center of the bill is partially removed, and the Indian head required on the five-dollar note is photographed in its place. The other alterations are made in the same way, the figures being changed partially by erasure and partially by photographic work. This process is believed to be new.

MANY SALOONS WERE OPEN.
St. Louis, Mo., April 10.—Contrary to expectations, Sunday was not 'dry' in St. Louis. Not one in fifty places closed its doors.

LIVE MAN

Was Put in the Undertaker's Wagon, While the Dead One Was Left as He Lay.

Kittanning, April 10.—A gruesome incident occurred here Sunday when six shoemakers went across the river for the purpose of having a good Sunday drunk. Clark E. Cochrane, while walking home, fell dead. Jim Sweeney, a companion, much intoxicated, fell over the body and lay still.

Word was telephoned to Kittanning for an undertaker's wagon and John Rohodes drove over. It was his opinion and that of those who gathered that Sweeney was really the dead man and he was loaded on the dead wagon. Rohodes did not discover the mistake until he reached his undertaker shop. He then went back to get the real dead man.

Bishops Palace Wrecked.

Naples, April 10.—A bomb was exploded today in the Episcopal palace at Conversano, province of Bari. Bishop Lambertini's study was blown to pieces, but the bishop was absent. It is believed to be the work of a local secret society which the bishop recently attacked.

Sailor Assaulted Admiral.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 10.—Richard Starr, a sailor on Rear Admiral Goodrich's flagship Chicago, lying off Long Beach, is under arrest, accused of assaulting the admiral while rowing the officer ashore. It is supposed the seaman's mind is unbalanced.

FIRST CENSUS

Of Philippine Islands Completed by Uncle Sam's Officials—Here are the Figures.

Washington, April 10. — The United States bureau of the census has just published the first complete census of the Philippine Islands. The principal object of the census was to secure statistics of population and a general knowledge of social conditions as a basis for the establishment of a Philippine legislature, which the law directs shall convene two years after the publication of the reports of the census. This legislature is to consist of two houses—the Philippine commission and the Philippine assembly. The details of the census follow: Population, 7,635,426; civilized 7,000,000 (estimated); density per mile, 67 (in United States 26); number villages, 13,200; average population, 500; largest city (Manila), 219,928; percentage married, 46.4; percentage able to read, 44.5; Manila death rate, 36.3; agricultural exports, $27,360,475; paupers, 1 to 10,000 (United States 12 to 10,000); average farm, 8.5 acres; value of property, $275,000,000; number of newspapers, 41; annual imports, $31,242,166; annual exports, $28,671,904.

JACK RABBITS

The Prey of the Presidential Party—Tent Pitched in Oklahoma by Mr. Roosevelt.

Ft. Worth, Tex., April 10.—Secretary Loeb has heard nothing from the President or his party since leaving at Frederick, Saturday night, for a hunting trip in Oklahoma, nor has any news concerning him leaked out of Frederick. Undoubtedly he spent Sunday on the ranch and today started on the hunt.

Ft. Worth, Tex., April 15. — In a suite of rooms on the parlor floor of the Hotel Worth in this city the seat of the United States government has been temporarily established. The official mail intended for the eyes of President Roosevelt is directed to this apartment, and in the absence of the president, who is hunting coyotes and jackrabbits over the Kiowa-Comanche reservation in Oklahoma, is given attention by Secretary Loeb. Most of this business will be acted upon by the secretary and directed to various departments in Washington where it originated. That which requires the personal supervision of the president will have to wait until Thursday, for it will not be until then that communication will be had with the hunt-gang party.

To Visit Fort Sill.

Lawton, Okla., April 10.—Notwithstanding the fact that it has never become public property that President Roosevelt intends to visit Fort Sill, it has now become evident that the soldiers of the Eighth cavalry of Fort Sill, under command of Major Murchert of the Texas National Guards, who are now guarding the president's camp in the Big Pasture, will on Wednesday escort the president to Fort Sill. The officers of the Eighth cavalry are now making preparations for the great ovation and will give him an elaborate banquet. The invitation of the Lawton Commercial club to the president asking him to visit Lawton will likely be accepted at the same time.

Grover & Co. Fail.

Brockton, Mass., April 10.—Another result of the triple boiler explosion of March 20, which destroyed the Steel plant of R. B. Grover & Co. and caused the death of 15 men and wounded 40, was the filing of a voluntary petition on bankruptcy by the unfortunate firm. The assignment was made today.

NEWARK MAN

Fatally Hurt Sunday
Night at Lexington

C. Gordon's Back Broken
By 35 Foot Fall.

JUMPED FROM HIS ENGINE

Not Knowing that Locomotive
Then Stood Upon Bridge
His Death Expected.

Mansfield, O., April 10.—Charles F. Gordon of Newark, a B. & O. fireman, is in Emergency Hospital in this city, at the point of death from injuries which he received Sunday evening near Lexington, south of this city.

From Engineer Hifinger, who was on the engine with Mr. Gordon, it was today learned that Gordon was standing on the pilot of the engine, No. 640. He was being sent out as a flagman, while the engine and train was taking the siding for southbound passenger train No. 15. In the dark Gordon failed to notice that the engine was standing on a bridge, and the unfortunate man stepped off falling to the rocks, 35 feet below the trestle.

When he was picked up by the trainmen, it was seen that the man was dangerously hurt and he was hurried to Mansfield and sent to a hospital. An examination revealed the fact that Gordon's spine was fractured and that several ribs were torn loose besides numerous bruises on the body. His chances for recovery are, this afternoon, regarded as slim.

Charles F. Gordon, the fireman referred to in the above dispatch, is well-known in Newark, living at 55 North Morris street. He came to Newark from West Virginia, his home, about a year ago. Since coming to Newark and until a few weeks ago, Mr. Gordon roomed at the home of his sister, Mrs. Grant Moore, who died a few weeks ago.

Mr. Gordon is about 27 years old, and is well thought of among his friends. At the time of the accident he was firing on engine 640, which was "double-heading" with engine 1936 on train No. 21.

ACTION AGAINST PACKERS
FOR CONTEMPT MAY FOLLOW

Chicago, April 10.—A mandate of the Supreme court of the United States affirming the injunction issued by Judge Grosscup against the Chicago packers was placed on file for the first time today in the office of the clerk of the District court by Assistant Attorney General Pagnin. It is rumored this presages action against several packers for contempt of court in violating the criminal injunction issued by Judge Grosscup.

Madrid, April 10.—An exact estimate of the casualties attending the collapse of the reservoir here Saturday, is still impossible. It is stated that 236 men in the lower part of the reservoir were all killed.

JUDGE DUNNE SWORN IN AS MAYOR MONDAY

Chicago, April 10.—Judge Dunne cleared the docket in circuit court this morning and resigned as judge to prepare for his inauguration as mayor tonight. Qualified replies indicating a willingness to support municipal ownership measures are made by six other members of council. If the popular clamor for city ownership is as great when the question is considered, a number of votes now regarded as doubtful may be expected to favor it. It is almost certain Dunne will be able to enact any legislation desired for acquisition of the street railway.

Sunday was the 40th anniversary of the surrender of General Lee at Appomattox, which virtually marked the ending of the great Civil war. That the wounds and ill feeling caused by that conflict have virtually practically been healed and wiped out is evident by the era of good feeling which we are now enjoying. The action of Congress in voting to return the captured Confederate battle flags and the escorting of the President of the United States by Union and Confederate veterans marching together show what great progress toward real unity has been made since the news was flashed over the wires that the army of the Potomac under the great and silent Grant had after four years of fighting won peace at Appomattox.

PROF. C. L. WILLIAMS

Granville University Teacher Has Just Published a Booklet About the Rhodes Scholarships.

"The American Student and the Rhodes Scholarships at Oxford University," is the title of a very attractive and interesting pamphlet just issued from the press of the Sprague Publishing company of Detroit. The author, Professor Charles L. Williams, A. M., of Denison University, Granville, calls it a "manual of information" and in it he has succeeded admirably in presenting clearly reliable information for the use of those American youth who may aspire to become Rhodes scholars at Oxford.

The booklet is profusely illustrated, and is conveniently divided into a half dozen chapters beginning with the founder of the scholarships and his purpose, dealing with the city of Oxford, the origin and growth of the great English university and ending with observations on the conservatism of Oxford, defects in the Oxford system and the special advantages of the Rhodes scholar.

One would almost know that it was Prof. Williams who had written this pamphlet even if his name did not appear on the title page. It is written in Prof. Williams' inimitable style that has made the Granville teacher so popular with Newark audiences and congregations. Facts are clearly presented and they are set forth in an original and comprehensive way.

FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

For All Such People in Newark We Guarantee Vinol Will Create Health, Strength and Vitality, or Return Money.

Hundreds of old people right here in Newark need just such a strength maker and body builder as our delicious cod liver oil preparation, Vinol; and we simply cannot understand why they will continue to drag out a half-dead and half-alive existence, when we guarantee Vinol will infuse new life, invigorate every organ in the body, stop the natural decline and make them well, vigorous and strong.

If you want to know how an aged, feeble, discouraged man or woman may be made active, cheerful and vigorous, read this letter.

Mrs. Catherine Therer of Albany, N. Y., writes: "Six months ago I felt that I was broken down by age, and I was doomed to the weak and feeble condition of old people. The slightest exertion tired me, and I had no strength. My daughter brought me a bottle of Vinol I soon felt an improvement, I continued its use, and am now well, cheerful and stronger than I have been for years. In fact, I feel 10 years younger."

Vinol is not a strong stimulant which reacts on the system, but it is a genuine tonic and body builder which creates strength by building up every organ in the body to do its work as nature intended, and makes rich, red blood. In this way it stops the natural decline and replaces weakness with vigor. We wish every old person in Newark would try Vinol on our guarantee to return money if it fails. Take a dose of Vinol after each meal and every night before retiring, and note its beneficial effect. Frank D. Hall, Druggist.

Newark Men Present.

Among the Newark business men who attended the meeting and banquet enjoyed by the Columbus Credit Men's association at the Great Southern hotel in the Capital City, Friday evening were Frank L. Beggs of Styron, Beggs & Co., W. C. Gardner of the Jewett Car Co., and Harry Swisher of Swisher Brothers.

The feature of the occasion was the address by Attorney C. M. Rogers, United States referee in bankruptcy, bearing upon the application and benefits of the bankruptcy laws. A general discussion followed the discourse.

Aside from the purpose of hospitality, a reason for the attendance of the out-of-town business men was to familiarize them with the details of operation and basic principles of the local organization with the view to extending the advantages of the credit interchange cabinet as instituted by the Columbus association.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism, and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by all druggists.

AT THE THEATERS

The advance sale of seats for Cincinnati Symphony orchestra which will visit Newark on Thursday, April 13, was opened this morning and the tickets have been in great demand all day. This is without doubt the greatest organization that has ever visited Newark and should be greeted by a crowd of 1000 people at the orchestra concert on Thursday afternoon, April 13, at 2:30, when the Cincinnati orchestra will play a program totally different from the evening program in Newark, and at the Rose Maiden concert on Friday evening, April 14th at 9, when the Newark and Granville choruses of 200 voices and orchestra of 40 will perform. Besides this eminent soloists have been engaged. The other numbers are a lecture on the Symphony Orchestra program by Mr. Gantvoort of the Cincinnati College of Music on Wednesday, April 12, at 3:30, Conservatory Faculty concert the same day at 8 p. m. and a concert of the Rose Maiden soloists Thursday, April 13, at 10 a. m.

WHO GOES THERE. Walter B. Perkins and his funny play "Who Goes There?" is to return to the Auditorium, Saturday, April 15. The piece comes fresh from a successful run at the Princess theatre on Broadway, New York, where many changes in the cast were made to meet the tastes of exacting metropolitan audiences. This same cast will appear with Mr. Perkins here. They were selected not only for their fitness to play the parts but to introduce musical specialties as well. "Who Goes There?" may be designated a musical farce with a large chorus which dashes on, between the funny incidents of the play, and gives additional pleasure in the rendition, with beautiful costumes, of popular song and dance hits. Miss Evelyn Francis is in the cast. Seats on sale after Wednesday.

WALTER B. PERKINS.
In "Who Goes There?"

THE HEART OF MARYLAND. Among the season's dramatic events the presentation of David Belasco's famous and ever popular drama of love and war "The Heart of Maryland," at the Auditorium soon, will doubtless attract its full share of the attention and favor of our theatre patrons. The thrilling and in fact culminating scene in the bellry of the old colonial church with the heroine's desperate leap to prevent the bell from ringing out the escape of her lover who has been sentenced to death as a spy, is one of the most effective examples of dramatic realism now upon the stage. The cast, it is claimed, is in keeping with the adequate production.

THE SHOW GIRL.

B. C. Whitney's superb production of the latest success, "The Show Girl," or "The Magic Cap," will be seen at the Auditorium on April 17. The piece is described as "A jolly bit of tomfoolery." The book is by the author of those foremost successes, such as "1492," "Little Christopher," "Excelsior, Jr.," "The Girl from Paris," etc. H. L. Heartz and W. E. Corliss are responsible for the music, the tunefulness of which is largely responsible for the cordial reception accorded the piece in New York and Boston. Among the numbers which have become popular and which have been receiving encore up encore, are: That's the way of a Sailor, Property Boy, I'm the Manager, Octette, On Shrine of Psyche, Something Perhaps, One That He Loves Best, I'm the Simple Author's Manager, Reggy's Family Tree, Champagne and Terrapin, and Susto Ooo.

VOGEL'S BIG CITY MINSTRELS. John W. Vogel's Big City Minstrels, consisting of more than fifty people, will be seen at the Auditorium soon. A glance at the roster of this organization, together with Vogel's reputation for handling nothing but the best, precludes any possibility of an inferior performance, as Marcellus Marselles, who has been engaged at an enormous salary, for this tour only, is alone worthy one's patronage, as he is without doubt the most wonderful acrobatic contortionist in the whole world.

GRANVILLE SPRING FESTIVAL. A remarkable sale of seats occurred in Granville Saturday when the spring festival seats were open for reservation. In one hour and a half the sales had amounted to $300 while before evening they had reached the $600 mark. At this rate the available seats 800 in number, will be all sold by Tuesday morning, if not by Monday night, so that Newark people who wish seats had better obtain them before that time. It is expected that there will be 1000 people at the orchestra concert on Thursday afternoon, April 13, at 2:30, when the Cincinnati orchestra will play a program totally different from the evening program in Newark, and at the Rose Maiden concert on Friday evening, April 14th at 9, when the Newark and Granville choruses of 200 voices and orchestra of 40 will perform. Besides this eminent soloists have been engaged. The other numbers are a lecture on the Symphony Orchestra program by Mr. Gantvoort of the Cincinnati College of Music on Wednesday, April 12, at 3:30, Conservatory Faculty concert the same day at 8 p. m. and a concert of the Rose Maiden soloists Thursday, April 13, at 10 a. m.

All concerts will be held in Granville Baptist church. The traction lines and the T. & O. C. railroad will run special trains and at least 400 people are expected from Newark and the towns as far north as Buevirus.

The Granville people have managed this festival with characteristic energy and have not only secured the success of their festival, but have guaranteed with the assistance of prominent Newark patrons of music, the Newark concert of the Cincinnati orchestra to the extent of $250. Besides this they expect to send 200 people to the Newark concert of the orchestra.

Reserved season tickets for the festival at King's in Granville; telephone orders promptly attended to.

LETTER SENT TO JAMES K. HACKETT

NEWARK BOY ASPIRES TO CAREER UPON THE STAGE AND WRITES ACTOR.

Mr. Hackett, Not Considering Matter Seriously, Hands Communication to New York Sun.

New York, April 10—Oren Reel, 110 South Second street, Newark, O., aspires to a stage career and he has written to James K. Hackett to put him on the road to fame.

Mr. Hackett has, evidently not regarded the correspondence as a serious proposition for he has just handed the following letter from Newark to the Evening Sun. Here it is:

Newark, O., March 21, 1905

Mr. James K. Hackett, Madison Square Theatre, New York City:

My Dear Friend—In the following letter I am going to suggest a plan to you which will be of vital importance to both of us. Not so much to you as to me, and I know that you will give it a very fair consideration, as fair as I would if I were in your position. No doubt you receive many letters from people who are in the same position that I am in, but I hope that my letter will prove one of a thousand letters which will be acted upon.

You are now presenting "The Fortunes of the King," upon the road. You have announced—or so it is has been announced by several of the magazines—that you are to appear with your wife, Mary Mannering, next year, and I take it that you will not want to use your present play next season. That you will use something that will show you to a far greater advantage. Maybe Shakespeare. What are you going to do with the play?

The following is my plan:

I have never been on the stage, but I know that I can act. Three years ago I became stage struck. I did not torment the managers for a position on the stage, but I studied it from every point. I read everything I could find to read that would give me a view. Now I want to do something to further my ambition. You have it in your power to make me an actor. You have it in your power to do for me what David Belasco has done for Mrs. Leshe Carter; what Mr. McKee Rankin has done for Miss Nance O'Neil, or what, in a measure, Miss Ada Dow did for Julia Marlowe. I only ask you to give me a start, as the starting is a tremendous undertaking for a beginner.

I ask you to present me in "The Fortunes of the King." Let me manage the whole affair in the way of production. You supply the scenery, costumes, etc. You pay for the lithographs—the lithographs will not cost as much as if they would were their new stones to be drawn on. I have nothing to invest into the undertaking but a store of will, perseverance and the ambition to succeed in that profession, will go with everything that I do. It is a hard proposition, but if you could only know me I will not tell you what people suffice it to tell you that one person—a person who I know, I am sure—said that I would be a book some day. What did she mean?

I am a man in appearance, although only 18 years of age, being over six feet tall. I have graduated from the Newark Business College in three courses—bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting—and I have an education that has learned me to speak correct-

DROPPED THE BASKET

Which Contained Good Sunday Dinner
Stolen from Mr. Jas. E. Thomas'
Refrigerator.

With visions of a fine Sunday dinner, a man who is known to the police, led Officer Scott of the night force, a merry chase Saturday night. The fugitive was handicapped by a basketful of groceries and meats but he escaped from the fleet footed policeman after dropping his burden.

Sunday, Mr. James E. Thomas, of 111 East Main street, called at the police station and started to tell how he had lost his Sunday dinner. An investigation revealed the fact that the basket captured by Patrolman Scott belonged to Mr. Thomas. In the basket were ham, eggs, one pint of maple syrup, a can of tomatoes and a number of oranges. Arrests will be made in the case.

Only a short time ago Mr. Thomas' refrigerator was rifled and a good Sunday dinner intended for the Thomas family found a place upon some other man's table.

MEMORIAL WINDOW

To First Husband Causes Trouble in the Dwyer Family and Now Divorce Suit is On.

Columbus, O., April 10—A divorce suit in the Franklin county courts, on Saturday, by Mrs. Martha Dwyer, of 68 West Tenth avenue, praying for separation from John L. Dwyer, of Greenfield, on the ground that he has grossly neglected her, and treated her with extreme cruelty. The trouble leading up to the suit for divorce grew out of Mrs. Dwyer's giving to a Methodist church in Newark a memorial window to her former husband, P. J. Blakefield. Mr. Dwyer objected to the window and as a result began his alleged cruel treatment.

In the suit the plaintiff asks that she be divorced from the defendant and the defendant be divested of all right in her dower. She further asks that she be allowed to assume the name of her first husband.

Mrs. Dwyer gave no memorial window to the First or East Main street Methodist churches of this city, said Revs. L. C. Sparks and T. W. Locke Monday morning.

PASTOR C. T. RUSSELL'S SERMON

Famous Allegheny Clergyman Preached Before Large Congregation at Taylor Hall Sunday—He Told of Cost of Being a Christian—Truth is the Power of God.

Dr. C. T. Russell, who spoke at the Y. M. C. Sunday afternoon, was greeted by a large crowd and Dr. Russell's ability as a speaker and scholar was fully evidenced. He held the closest attention of his hearers from the beginning until the end of his lecture, which lasted about two hours. The Doctor certainly advances an interesting theory upon the subject of judgment.

Dr. Russell's afternoon topic was "God's Oathbound Covenant to Abraham and His Seed and How it will be Fulfilled—the Christian's Share in it, the Share of the Jews and the Share of the World."

The speaker's evening discourse was prefaced with the remark that next Sunday evening would be the exact anniversary of the night on which our Lord was betrayed, 1,872 years ago, the night, therefore, in which Jesus instituted the annual Memorial Supper, the remembrance of His death on our behalf, which the Lord requested all of His true followers to celebrate in His memory.

The topic Sunday evening was, "What it Costs to be a True Christian," from the text, "Whosoever it be among you that renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple." (Luke 14:33). The discourse follows in parts:

"The hane of true Christianity is that doctrine of devils respecting the eternal torment of all who are not Christ's disciples—of all who, according to our text, renounce not all that they have to follow the Lord. This unholy, unscriptural teaching has not only cost pain, sorrow, perplexity and confusion to the Lord's true people, but it has injured the world as well. It has been the spur and lash which the Adversary has used in connection with exciting revivals to the injury of many; more are in insane asylums on account of this false doctrine than is generally supposed. Others, of stronger minds, recover from the excitement only to fall into a calloused and hardened condition, where they are more difficult than ever to reach along the proper scriptural lines, more difficult than ever to convert truly to the Lord and His cause.

"This lash of superstitious fear the Adversary used to build up the various sectarian systems to their present proportions. They stand chiefly for good morals, irrespective of religious profession. We are to distinguish between Christianity and morality. Many noble men and women, total unbelievers according to their own professions, have been moralists. Our Lord was not a revivalist according to the ordinary acceptance of that term. He never attempted to work His hearers into a spasmodic enthusiasm; He never carried the lash over them to drive them through fear to the Mercy Seat. On the contrary, He took a course which positively repelled those who were not in a right attitude of heart to receive His message. He continually held out before those to whom He preached the extreme difficulties associated with discipleship.

"Our text is another illustration of this principle of hindering those who might think lightly of the responsibilities of discipleship. He would have them understand that not everyone who saith, 'Lord, Lord,' should enter into the kingdom, but he that doeth the will of the Father. He would have them understand that to do the will of God under present conditions, during the present gospel age, would signify the abandonment of earthly aims and hopes and ambitions, and the substituting for these of heavenly hopes and ambitions, which would change them in character likeness from glory to glory, preparing them for a share in the first resurrection.

"To make the matter particularly plain, our Lord gave two illustrations in the verses preceding our text. He points out that any man intending to build a tower would, if exercised by a sane mind, sit down and calculate whether or not he could afford to build it and whether it would pay. Undoubtedly the Lord's method of preaching the gospel was the correct one, and those who follow any other method or standard are in error, no matter how conscientiously they may believe they do God's service. Revivalists in general attract excitement, and sometimes evidently have the adversary's assistance in producing hypnotic results. Many evangelists without divine power and the gifts of miracles possessed by our Lord and His Twelve Apostles, and the Seventy also, gathered during the three and a half years of our Lord's ministry—the total number being stated as five hundred brethren. But the Lord gathered no tares—only wheat.

"I seek to walk in the Master's foot steps, and to make known the message, and expect that it will specially appeal only to the 'very elect,' the 'Israelite, indeed in whom there is no guile.' But I am not seeking to build up a sect or party. I recognize the Church of Christ as one and not many. I recognize that the Lord gave no commission to me or to anyone else to ed above that we are able, but with the temptation will provide a way of escape.

"One of the Lord's illustrations is that of a king with a small army going forth to battle against a king with a greater army. How necessary it would be to count the cost, if defeat could be avoided. So with us; it is well that we count the cost and see our own weakness and our own littleness and our own inability to cope with and to vanquish the world and the adversary and our own imperfect flesh. Not until we do see this will we be properly ready to become the Lord's followers. If we once learn this lesson properly and make our alliance with the Lord, with the full realization of His words, 'Without me ye can do nothing,' then our course will be the right one and success will be ours through our Lord in the end.

"Make straight paths for your feet, the Apostle admonishes. He has arranged your affairs so that you will not be stumbled in the narrow way. Put away the things that would remind you of the pleasures of sin, that would tend to preserve the pride and fond desires of the flesh. Become what your worldly friends would consider an extremist to the extent that you will copy the Lord and the apostles and their instructions. Cultivate humility instead of pride, meekness instead of boastfulness, generosity instead of selfishness, loving kindness instead of hypocrisy. Seek the companionship of the good, the pure, the consecrated, and especially the companionship of the Lord Himself. Speak to Him frequently in prayer and seek for His answer in the inspired Scriptures. Be faithful in the little things of life. Realize that you cannot, as a new creature, measure yourself by the standards of the world.

"If while pursuing this course you fall into various trials and difficulties, take them patiently, realizing that this is another evidence of God's favor toward you an evidence that He is pruning and testing you to make you ready for His further use either in the present or in the future life. Thus you may bear a song away and find each day a happy one, because it brings you a little nearer to the grand ideal standard and to the glorious time of your change.

The men's meeting of next Sunday will be addressed by Dr. Charles E. Clark, pastor of the M. E. church of Coshocton, Ohio. Dr. Clark is an exceedingly brilliant speaker and deserves a large audience.

Dr. C. T. Russell's lectures which were given at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon and evening, were under the auspices of Bible class of the sect known as Believers of which Dr. Russell is the head. The society in Newark is, however, not as yet an organized body.

The theory advanced by Dr. Russell is presented in his publications, "The Millennial Dawn" and "Zion's Watch Tower."

Quite a number of out-of-town persons attended the lecture. A special car brought a large party from Columbus, Indianapolis, Mansfield, Zanesville, Cambridge and Somerset were also well represented. Considerable interest was shown in the meetings and it is indeed a rare treat to hear such an able speaker, and Bible student as Dr. Russell.

WOMAN IN THE CASE

She may be your mother, your wife or your daughter. In either case you owe her something. To your mother you owe more than you can ever pay—no use to argue that point. To your wife, you have given your promise to support and protect. She didn't ask you to take her from her Father's roof; you did the asking, and placed her where she is dependent on your support. Is she worthy of your protection? Then protect her.

As to the daughter; you are responsible for her existence, and therefore, for her maintenance. You have no right to die and leave her with an incomplete education, rendering it necessary for her to leave school and enter a factory, in order to keep your widow and orphans from starving. You have no right to do this because Life Insurance makes it possible for you to avoid it. If we should tell you that you would deliberately take bread from your family during your lifetime, you would rightfully be mad. Will you take their bread and comforts with you to the grave when it isn't necessary? Take your policy with Equitable now. It is the strongest company in the world. O. M. Tucker and J. R. Tucker agents.

RAILWAY RUMBLES

R. E. McCARTY IS SUCCESSOR OF RALPH PETERS.

New Superintendent Began Career as Telegraph Operator—Local and General Railway News.

R. E. McCarty, superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Pan Handle, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, who late Saturday afternoon was appointed general superintendent of the southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines, succeeding Ralph Peters, now president of the Long Island railroad, has been in the service of the Pan Handle since July, 1879.

He started as a telegraph operator at Bowerston, just east of Dennison. He held that position until November 1, 1881, when he was sent to Dennison as a train dispatcher-operator, which position he held until September, 1882. On that date he was made train dispatcher, and in March, 1895, he was promoted to assistant train master of the Pittsburgh division, at Pittsburgh. In 1896 he was promoted to trainmaster at Pittsburgh, and held that position until January 1, 1902, when he was promoted to superintendent of the division. Mr. McCarty is 43 years of age.

P. A. Bonebrake, superintendent of the Logansport division, succeeds Mr. McCarty on the Pittsburgh division.

Brakeman's Hand Injured.

James O'Neil, a Pan Handle brakeman, residing on Poplar avenue, had his hand caught between the bumper of two freight cars at Hanover, Sunday, and the member was badly crushed. He was brought to this city, where Dr. C. F. Legge dressed the injury. It is thought that amputation will not be necessary.

Seen Grazing in Fallsbury Township as Late as 1846—More About Panthers, Wilcats, Etc.

(By J. C. Frampton.)

On my father's farm in Fallsbury township I have seen deer grazing on the wheat fields in spring time as late as 1846. I ate venison killed on our farm in 1846, and have a beautiful horn of a doe picked up on the home farm in 1845, when I was eight years old.

The last panther killed in that township was about 1844 or '45, on the farm now owned by V. M. Vanwinkle, and about 300 yards from where the Frampton school house now stands. I have seen the tree and limb on which it lay when shot, many a time. Its capture was in this wise: The older Vanwinkles were sowing a meadow near the spring which flowed from the hill side. A large white oak tree grew near this spring. A boy by the name of Henry Bentz, whose father was assisting in sowing the seed was sent for water. When he arrived at the spring he saw the animal lying on the limb above his head. He stepped out a little ways and called to the men telling them that the prettiest spotted dog he had ever seen was lying up in the tree. The men called to him to run quickly to them, and that it was a panther. Bentz related this to me not many years ago, but could not give the exact date. I often heard the story at the time of its occurrence, and in later years have killed many squirrels on the same tree.

In my boyhood days I have helped to kill a number of wildcats in the same neighborhood. The last of these I think was caught in a trap by Mr. Hull, near Gregg's mill (Crap's mill) about 1875.

Noah Reid chased off the last wolf that I heard of with a club—not having a gun—about 1850.

Is Your Stomach On a Strike?

That Dark Brown Taste and Indigestion Indicate Dyspepsia.

If you have a coated tongue and a bad taste in your mouth, the gastric juices of your stomach are not doing their duty—they have gone on a permanent strike—and dyspepsia has its grip upon you.

A little later you will have a fully developed case of chronic dyspepsia and will begin to experience, if you do not already, indigestion, shortness of breath, nausea, with hot bitter fluid and partially digested food rising in your mouth; headache, dizziness, blurred vision and foul breath.

You cannot cure dyspepsia by eliminating one article of diet after another. Everything will soon disagree with you. The only way is to eliminate the cause of the trouble.

Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets regulate the gastric juices, and strengthen the weakened organism, so that digestion soon becomes perfect.

One tablet relieves the full feeling after eating that often is the first warning of dyspepsia, as is proved by the following testimonial:

"I wish to thank you for the wonderful cure your Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets have wrought. I suffered for over ten years with a troublesome form of dyspepsia, until I chanced to obtain a box of Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets. I used them and found immediate and permanent relief, and the only symptoms remaining of my former trouble is a slight headache occasionally. I have recommended Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets to a great many of my friends, and will continue to do so, as I believe them to be the best dyspepsia remedy ever sold—Mrs. Finch, 19 S. Brown St., Dayton, Ohio.

We guarantee Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets to cure. The price is 25 cents for a full size package, and we cheerfully refund your money if you are not satisfied. Frank D. Hall.

MR. HUEY'S CHILD DRANK CHLORAL

FOR SOME TIME LITTLE GIRL WAS IN VERY SERIOUS CONDITION.

Two Years Old Tot Found Bottle in Dresser Drawer and She Drank the Poison.

The two year old daughter of Harry Huey of 96 Manning street, narrowly escaped death Saturday night from chloral poisoning. The little girl was running about the house when she opened a dresser drawer and procured a bottle of medicine, drinking a large quantity of the mixture. A few minutes later the child went to its mother complaining of severe pains. In a few minutes she relapsed into a stupor and all efforts of the mother to awaken the child were of no avail. Dr. Carl Evans was called and administered an antidote for chloral poisoning and succeeded in reviving the child. The little girl is now out of danger, but for a few hours her condition was regarded as critical.

ELYRIA ITALIANS HURT TRAINMEN

WIVES HAD BEEN ARRESTED THERE FOR STEALING COAL FROM CARS.

Amount of Lorain Bank Shortage is $102,000—News From All Parts Of Ohio.

Elyria, O., April 10.—Three Italians whose wives were arrested last week for stealing coal on the Lake Shore railroad, sought revenge this morning by attacking a freight train crew with axes and knives. Robert Muets, conductor, was stabbed in the face and two other trainmen were severely beaten. One Italian was arrested, the others escaping. The arrested man fought the officers and was beaten almost into insensibility. The trainmen are seriously hurt.

Amount of Shortage. Lorain, April 10.—Experts report the shortage of the wrecked Citizens' Savings bank to be $102,000.

To Complete Road. Lima, O., April 10.—It is stated on reliable authority here that the United States Steel corporation, which has held the controlling stock in the Columbus and Lake Michigan (old Fairport road), has disposed of its holdings to New Yorkers and the road will be completed this summer between here and West Mansfield, where it will connect with the Toledo and Ohio Central for an entrance into Columbus.

Nervy Burglar. Portsmouth, O., April 10.—While the family was away a stranger effected an entrance into the residence of William Burt, a local merchant. The intruder proceeded to the bathroom and, after taking a bath, attired himself in Mr. Burt's finest suit, shoes and overcoat. He then took a suit case and rifled all the drawers, taking a lady's watch and jewelry amounting to over $100.

Needle Taken From Back. Hillsboro, O., April 10.—Pearl, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carlisle, complained of a pain in her back. Her mother, on making an examination, found the point of a two-inch needle protruding from the flesh and withdrew it. The girl had been an invalid for three years, and it is believed that her illness was caused by the needle.

Rider Haggard Arrives. Cleveland, O., April 10.—H. Rider Haggard, the English author, accompanied by Commander Booth Tucker of the Salvation Army, arrived in Cleveland and will visit the farm colony under the management of the Salvation Army at Mentor, O., to study social work done there. Mr. Haggard's daughter and Ransom Caygill are also of the party.

Wife's Allegations. Marion, O., April 10.—Mrs. Mary E. Messenger, in a petition against Dallas Messenger for divorce, claims her principal reason for wanting a separation is the fact that since 1900 they have moved 13 times, each time because the rent was due. The last move was into the house in which they started housekeeping.

Goes to Toledo. Toledo, O., April 10.—Jack Doyle of last year's Philadelphia National League club, has been signed to play first base for Toledo. President Grillo bought his release and Doyle accepted the terms offered. He will join the club at once.

Assets and Liabilities. Columbiana, O., April 10.—According to a schedule mailed to the United States court at Cleveland, the assets of Shilling & Co.'s bank, which failed on March 11, are placed at $35,000, and the liabilities at $115,000.

Mysteriously Missing. Fremont, O., April 10.—Philip Anspach, a well-known citizen, has been missing since Friday. His family fears foul play, as he had a large amount on his person, secured through a settlement of his father's estate.

Ugly Charge. Lima, O., April 10.—J. H. Buckles, 29, is in jail charged with criminal assault on Josephine Ribble, 14. The girl is seriously ill.

How British Cities Manage Public Utilities

An American Attends a Town Meeting of the Free Voters of Manchester—Liverpool's Public Baths and Washhouses

By FREDERICK UPHAM ADAMS

[Copyright, 1904, by Frederick Upham Adams.]

IV.

IN all save one form the cities of Great Britain are much more democratic in their methods of government than are ours. With them the citizen exercises a direct interest in public affairs. The city council is truly the representative of the mass of the electorate. It is impossible for the members of a council to go far astray even if they were so disposed. The manner in which they do these things on the other side may best be illustrated by an instance which came under my personal observation.

The city of Manchester owns and operates its street railways, and it is also a large stockholder in the Manchester Ship Canal company. For some time it has been deemed necessary to raise more money for the enlargement and improvement of both of these great enterprises, and for months prior to my visit to Manchester special committees of the council had been working on ways and means to authorize and complete these improvements. A bill was finally drawn petitioning parliament for power to issue bonds amounting to a total of about $7,500,000 to raise funds for these purposes. The council adopted the measure. My attention was first directed to the matter by reading huge posters displayed in various parts of the city announcing a town meeting of the free voters of Manchester for the purpose of taking final action in the matter of the proposed bond issue.

It was then that I learned that in this, as in all other important matters, the voters had the right of a referendum. William Henry Talbot, for a generation the town clerk of Manchester, invited me to a seat on the platform, and I had opportunity to witness the workings of a democracy in a country classed as a monarchy.

The huge gothic hall in which the free and independent burgesses of Manchester assembled to pass on the recommendations of their common council is capable of seating four or five thousand persons, but it was not half filled when we entered. To the right of the platform was a large map of Manchester and Salford showing the plan of the proposed street railway extensions, and the enlargement of the dock facilities.

"Suppose," I asked Town Clerk Talbot, "that a majority of those present vote against this measure. Does that defeat all chance of its passage?"

"It would for the time being," responded Mr. Talbot. "The council would hesitate to broach the matter again, for a long while at least."

"Is there any decided opposition to the bill?" I asked. "Are there no private interests whose profits will be imperiled by the passage of this act?"

"Certainly there are," was the reply. "It authorizes the construction of tenement houses and cottages which will compete with those owned by members of the landlords' association, and some of them are here, and others are represented by their attorneys. Then many ratepayers are opposed to the building of more trams or improving the ship canal. They are here and will be heard."

There are more than 100,000 voters in Manchester, and not more than 3,000 of them were in the hall when Lord Mayor Shann took his chair and adjusted the official chain which was suspended around his neck. I was mystified by the lack of attendance on the part of the electorate of Manchester.

"What is there to prevent the opposing interests to this bill from packing the hall with their partisans?" I asked, my mind wandering back to Chicago, New York and others centers of civilization with which I was familiar.

"No one would dare attempt such a thing," said the astounded and doubtful town clerk.

"But suppose they dared do it and succeeded," I insisted. "What would happen then?"

"There would be a bloody riot, don't you know," said Mr. Talbot, with a bland smile, and before I could question him further the lord mayor motioned him to open the meeting. From other sources equally reliable I have learned that Mr. Talbot's prediction of violence in the event of a packed meeting was entirely justifiable.

The town clerk read the proposed bill, and it was voted to take it up and discuss it by sections. The lord mayor moved the passage of each section and called on some member of the council to second his motion. The question was then open to general debate, and any citizen of Manchester could speak for or against it. Many speeches were made, and as a result some unimportant amendments were agreed to, and when every one had had his say the motion to indorse the action of the council was put and passed without a dissenting vote.

What struck me as extraordinary was this: Here was a measure which combined in itself all that is radical in the movement for public ownership. It committed the city to a closer partnership with a private business corporation. It authorized a large expenditure for houses which would compete with those owned by landlords. It proposed an extension of municipal tramways beyond the corporate limits of Manchester, thereby establishing a new

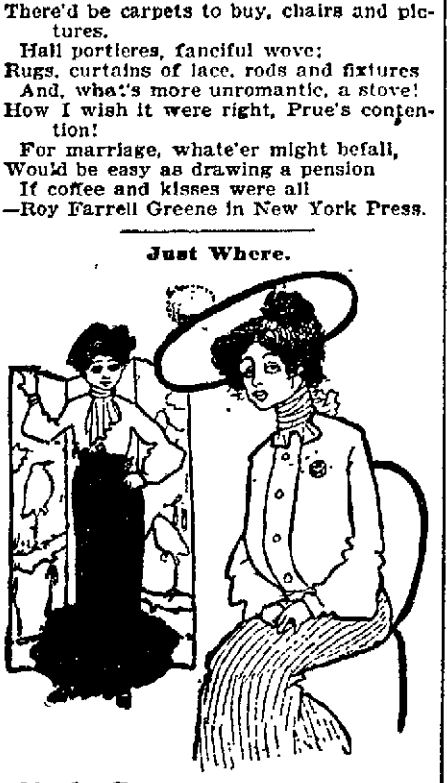

FACING THE FACTS.

I'd be quick to seize wedlock's fond blisses
Were I not so by poverty cursed.
Prue insists that "on coffee and kisses
We could live very well at the first."
But to quite catch her view I'm unable.
Though I know, were I pushed to the wall,
I could surely provide for our table
If coffee and kisses were all.

Perhaps in my views I'm archaic.
Unromantic and lacking in dreams.
But this "love in a cot" grows prosaic,
No odds how attractive it seems.
For a parlor suit royal of burnish
No cash to provide can I call,
Though a home I feel sure I could furnish
If coffee and kisses were all.

There'd be carpets to buy, chairs and pictures.
Hail portieres, fanciful wove:
Rugs, curtains of lace, rods and fixtures
And, who's more unromantic, a stove!
How I wish it were right, Prue's contention!
For marriage, what'er might befall,
Would be easy as drawing a pension
If coffee and kisses were all.

Sure Footed.

Among the audience attending a recital given recently by a visiting English organist was a local musician, a competitor for an important organ position sought by the visitor. The foreigner was in poor form, his management of the pedals being particularly bad. His rival in the audience listened quietly for awhile; then, leaning toward his neighbor, he whispered:

By Wireless From the Footlights

I WANT a pistol to kill a man, and I have the money right here. I am an actor, and I want to kill some one, but not in the piece. I want to kill him stone dead."

In this blunt fashion a dealer in firearms was approached by a prospective customer. He bent over the counter and saw a tiny but resolute figure before him. It was Master William Burton James, the four-year-old actor who plays the role of Little Tommy in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

WILLIAM BURTON JAMES.

It is to the diminutive exponent of tragedy in real life.

Master William looked at it contemptuously. "I want a sure enough gun that will make a hole in Mr. Hodge," he piped in petulant, childish tones that contrasted strangely with his dire threats. The embarrassment of the dealer was relieved at this moment by the arrival of Miss May McManus, who is the Asia of the house of Wiggs. Master James is in her charge while the company is on the road. The youngster is of a very jealous disposition. He is devoted to Miss McManus, and when Mr. Hodge addressed a few words to her while waiting in the wings for his cue young James determined to have his heart's blood. It is feared Little Tommy may have to be put under bonds to keep the peace.

Now and then the actor, author and poet E. H. Sothern admits visitors to his dressing room. He did so in Cincinnati, where he entertained a somewhat nervous and excitable gentleman during his moments "off stage."

In the midst of one of their arguments there entered the room a dignified and decorous colored man, who advanced to the center, saying in an earnest monotone:

"Have you no fear of God?" and mysteriously departed as he came.

Mr. Sothern's guest was naturally astounded, but he was too well bred to ask questions. Resuming his argument, he again grew heated in his remarks, and again the colored man quietly and mysteriously entered and declared:

"If you were the devil himself do you think you could make me like you?"

To the guest's surprise, the actor took the interruption as a matter of course, so Sothern's visitor in a dazed manner continued his argument, only to be interrupted again by the same colored intruder, this time with the remark:

"I know you now, and God knows I pity you."

Mr. Sothern's guest was now too surprised to talk. He sat in a collapsed condition until the same man had entered three separate times and in an expressionless voice had said:

"I am as changeless as the sun. I will carry my soul pure to heaven."

"You are the strange woman."

"You shall be as beautiful as I am and as happy."

This last remark was too much for the man's nerves. He was barely able to gasp: "Sothern, what the blazes does this mean? Is this a joke or an insane asylum? Who is this fellow?"

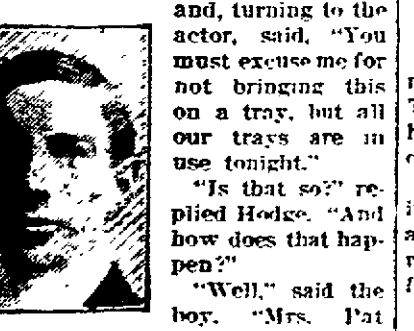

"That," said the actor—"that is simply my dresser, Lewis. His duty is to notify me of the progress of the play by lines. In that manner I know when my cue comes."

"Oh," said Mr. Sothern's guest, wiping great beads of perspiration from his face, "I was beginning to believe I had 'em."

William T. Hodge, who made a hit as Mr. Stubbins in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," was studying up for a production in Chicago two years ago, and, becoming thirsty along in the early hours of the morning, he called a boy and, as he tells the story, ordered "a bottle of milk." When the boy returned he bore the bottle in his hand, and, turning to the actor, said, "You must excuse me for not bringing this on a tray, but all our trays are in use tonight."

"Is that so?" replied Hodge. "And how does that happen?"

"Well," said the boy, "Mrs. Pat Campbell is giving a dinner down stairs, and they have all the trays down there."

WILL T. HODGE.

"So Mrs. Campbell is giving a dinner?" mused Hodge.

"Yes," said the boy, "and all the actors in town are down there."

"Ah!" said Hodge.

"Oh, yes," answered the boy, "all but the cheap skates."

Since Heinrich Corried, director of the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, has come into prominence as an Impresario he has been granted considerable space in the newspapers.

It is told that at a dress rehearsal of "Parsifal" a book reviewer said of him:

"I know a rich stockbroker who thinks he can write verse. This man had Corried to dinner one night, and after dinner he was so inebriated as to read aloud to his guest a long poem called 'Alco bol.' Corried listened silently, and he continued silent after the reading was done."

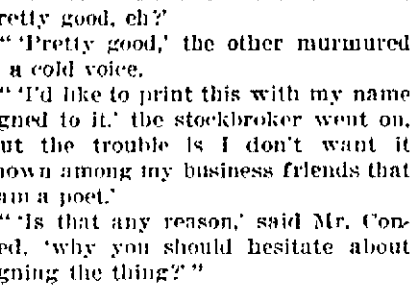

"Well?" said the stockbroker. "Well?"

"Pretty good, eh?"

"Pretty good," the other murmured in a cold voice.

"I'd like to print this with my name signed to it," the stockbroker went on, "but the trouble is I don't want it known among my business friends that I am a poet."

"Is that any reason," said Mr. Corried, "why you should hesitate about signing the thing?"

HEINRICH CORRIED.

Emma Calve, who is winning golden opinions and golden coins in a European tour this season, doubtless remembers with a chill an experience she had in this country about a year ago, when she went to New Haven, Conn., to sing the role of Curmen. It happened that a large number of students were desirous of engagement as "supers" in the opera and only a few could be hired. There was quite a mob of the unsuccessful applicants, and their pranks became so boisterous that the stage manager became alarmed. He conceived the bright idea of repelling them with a fire hose. Forthwith he stationed the carpenter at the stage entrance and armed him with fifty feet of three inch cotton hose and an inch and a half nozzle.

EMMA CALVE.

He told him to wait until he got a signal to turn the water on and then to play for all he was worth.

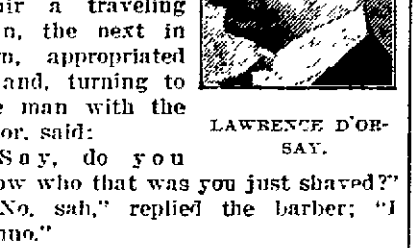

A few minutes later Mme. Calve's carriage swung up to the curb, and the students, recognizing her as she stepped forth, opened a lane for the singer and let out three cheers. The carpenter, who had an eye to a hole in the stage door, got rattled at this moment and turned on the water. Mme. Calve was bowing her acknowledgments for the reception of the students when a cold stream struck her and made her gasp. She put up her hands in protest, but the carpenter stood valiantly to his post.

Giving up in despair, the prima donna finally gathered up her skirts and with head down made a dash for the stage entrance. The carpenter at last saw his mistake. Mme. Calve rushed to her dressing room and half an hour later appeared on the stage as serene as if nothing had happened.

While Lawrence D'Orsay, who is now touring in "The Earl of Pawtucket," was playing in Denver recently he dropped into a local barber shop to be shaved. After the barber had completed his ministrations and D'Orsay had left the chair a traveling man, the next in turn, appropriated it and, turning to the man with the razor, said:

"Say, do you know who that was you just shaved?"

"No, sah," replied the barber; "I dunno."

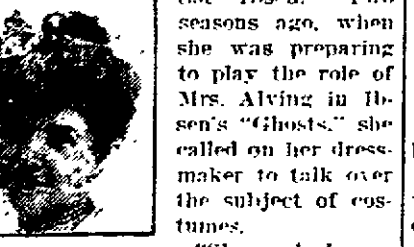

LAWRENCE D'ORSAY.

"Well," replied the drummer, "that is Lawrence D'Orsay, the Earl of Pawtucket."

"Is dat so, sah? Well, well! I's often see him on de stage, but dis is de first time I ever had de pleasure of meeting him socially."

Miss Mary Shaw, who created the role of Amrah in "Ben-Hur" and who has been playing with her company at the Circle theater, New York, recently, is a great admirer of the works of the Norwegian dramatist Ibsen. Two seasons ago, when she was preparing to play the role of Mrs. Alving in Ibsen's "Ghosts," she called on her dresser-maker to talk over the subject of costumes.

MARY SHAW.

"She asked me what the play was," Miss Shaw relates, "and I told her it was 'Ghosts.' Thereupon she informed me that she had some lovely white goods that she could make up for me."

Miss Shaw has an aversion to removing her hat at social gatherings, and at one time a hostess, a little provoked at her peculiarity, demanded a reason for it.

"Well, you see, it's my hair," said the actress promptly. "I have a head of hair that always looks like a rat's nest. If I smooth it down I find it very uncomfortable and embarrassed. I shall never forget the first time I met Bernhardt and her remark about my hair."

"Oh, my dear!" she said, "I am glad to meet at last a woman whose hair looks worse than mine."

Simon Lake, inventor of the submarine boat bearing his name, will live abroad, being disgusted with his native country.

Samuel N. Piles, new United States senator from Washington, was admitted to the bar in Kentucky before he was twenty-one.

Hon. John L. Griffiths of Indianapolis, who has been tendered the consulship of Liverpool, is one of Indiana's prominent orators.

E. C. Auer, a nephew of Congressman Cannon, is about to be made consul at Puerto Cortez, Spanish Honduras. He is a native of Peoria, Ill.

Abraham Rosenberg of New York has been unanimously elected grand master of the Sons of Benjamin, which order has a membership of 30,000 in the United States.

Colonel J. Edward Studley has been elected president of the Rhode Island Sons of the American Revolution, and John Prescott Farnsworth, the poet, was elected vice president.

General Stoessel's name is of German origin, and it occurs in south Germany and Silesia as well as Switzerland. The Jews claim him, too, his name being borne by not a few of their families.

No finer professional compliment could be paid to a lawyer than Joseph H. Choate's remark concerning the late James C. Carter of New York, "When he retires he will make room for a thousand lawyers."

Colonel Bill Sapp, the chairman of the Kansas state Democratic committee, is the direct descendant of a French dual house. One of his grandfathers was a teacher of Napoleon at one of the military schools.

George Duckworth is the veteran engineer of the New York, New Haven and Hartford road. Though eighty-seven years old, he handles the lever of a stationary engine in the company's plant at Bridgewater, Mass.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Soft ribbons for girdles come in somber shadings.

Mother-of-pearl effects are a novelty in foulard silks.

Yellow and orange are dominant colors in millinery.

Lace hats will be much worn, both cream and black.

The redingote is the leading style for the separate coat of spring.

Self colored embroidery in rich effects decorates the higher grade of hosiery.

In the new hats are noticed those with moderately high but small and conical shaped crowns.

Turnover collars opening in front are much in demand. Some are finished with buttonhole scallop and others are embroidered in floral patterns.—Brooklyn Eagle.

PLANT CULTURE.

Cover the plants while sweeping to protect them from the dust.

More plants are ruined by too much water and too poor light than in any other way.

Do not water house plants too often; once or twice a week is enough for most kinds.

The chrysanthemum is easily raised from seed and if sown early in March will bloom the first year.

The use of slaked lime on the soil in pots containing ivy will materially benefit the plants, giving the foliage a brighter green and the plants a stronger growth.

A WOMAN'S ORDEAL.

DREADS DOCTOR'S QUESTIONS

Thousands Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and Receive Valuable Advice Absolutely Confidential and Free

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions in regard to her private life, even when those questions are asked by her family physician, and many continue to suffer rather than submit to examinations which so many physicians propose in order to intelligently treat the disease; and this is the reason why so many physicians fail to cure female disease.

This is also the reason why thousands upon thousands of women are corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. To her they can confide every detail of their illness, and from her great knowledge, obtained from years of experience in treating female ills, Mrs. Pinkham can advise women more wisely than the local physician.

Read how Mrs. Pinkham helped Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Ia. She writes:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude in words. Before I wrote to you telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady, and spent a lot of money in medicines besides, but it all failed to do me any good. I had female trouble and would daily have fainting spells, backache, bearing-down pains, and my monthly periods were very irregular and finally ceased. I wrote to you for your advice and received a letter full of instructions just what to do, and also commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I have been restored to perfect health. Had it not been for you I would have been in my grave to-day."

Mountains of proof establish the fact that no woman in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for restoring women's health.

WOMAN IN BLACK

Mr. Bope's Troubles Said to Have Originated at Zanesville from His Kindness to Her.

Zanesville, O., April 10.—An echo of the famous libel suit in which Rev. Frank W. Bope was plaintiff and W. A. Gibbs, general manager of the local street railway system, was defendant and which was a sensation here at the January term of court was heard here in the filing of a suit for divorce by Caroline Mounts. The petition merely alleges gross neglect as the grounds of the action.

Caroline Mounts inadvertently, it seems, was the beginning of Rev. Mr. Bope's troubles. She was a member of his congregation and when the estrangement between her and her husband arose the two were asked to meet at Rev. Mr. Bope's house in an effort to effect a settlement.

The conference, it is stated, lasted until late at night, and finally Mounts left in a rage, leaving his wife to the care of Rev. Mr. Bope. The latter, he the story goes, saw her to her home, in a distant part of the city.

Immediately stories began to be circulated about Rev. Mr. Bope being seen to leave his study late at night with a "mysterious woman in black," and it is said that Bope's troubles dated from that occasion.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Mounts were summoned as witnesses at the Bope-Gibbs trial, but the case was settled before they were called to testify.

LICKING COUNTY

To be in New Fair Circuit of the Muskingum Valley Just Organized at Zanesville.

What will be called the Muskingum Valley Fair Association was organized at Zanesville last week, by representatives of the agricultural societies of Coshocton, Zanesville, Newark, McConnellsville, New Lexington and Lancaster. The organization was effected by electing Mr. White of Zanesville, president and treasurer. Mr. J. M. Farmer, secretary of the Licking County Agricultural Society, attended the meeting.

JUDGE SAMUEL M. HUNTER

Newark Man Would be a Popular Candidate for Governor
---Boom Started by Advocate Spreading Over the State.

The Cadiz Sentinel contains the following regarding Judge S. M. Hunter, of this city, who has been favorably mentioned as a most available candidate for Governor of Ohio:

Judge S. M. Hunter, of Newark, is spoken of very favorably in many Democrats this year will not repeat the mistake of too earnest predilection for any individual candidate. There is a big contingent of Republicans who will support an able and clean Democratic candidate, and the selection should be made with judiparts of the state as a probable Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio. The Judge came from this county, and there is no better man in the state for the position. He would be supported enthusiastically by the Democrats of Eastern Ohio.

The nominations will not go begging this year. In response to very many requests Hon. L. T. Neal, of Chillicothe, has consented to be a candidate. He is also a clean Democrat, and would receive hearty support from every section. We hope that care. It is not good policy to become enlisted in the support of any man as to temper enthusiasm for the candidate who may be chosen. And in the emergency which confronts the state it is no time for factionalism. A candidacy by factional effort or for factional advancement will injure the candidate. Let the contest be made with the old time Democratic unity and enthusiasm. This state ought to be redeemed, and there are thousands of Republicans waiting to help us when they see an honest effort made.

Y. M. C. A. ELECTION

Members of the Association Invited to Attend Annual Meeting to be Held Tuesday Night.

The ballots for Tuesday's Y. M. C. A. election will not be printed until Tuesday morning. Secretary A. A. Elbersole said Monday that the list of men to be voted for will not be made up till morning.

Polls at the Y. M. C. A. building will be open from 4 to 7:30 p. m., and seven trustees will be elected.

The Y. M. C. A. annual meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Junior room. The president's annual report will be read, the result of the election of trustees will be announced, short speeches will be delivered, refreshments will be served, and a social hour enjoyed.

RACE SUICIDE

FEW BABIES ARE BORN IN THE MILLIONAIRE DISTRICT.

Of Sixteen Thousand Babies in New York in Four Months Only Ten in Rich Men's Territory.

New York, April 10.—Sixteen thousand babies were born in New York in the last four months, and of these only 10 began their existence in the millionaire's district in Fifth avenue, so Mr. Gilroy, the registrar of statistics, reported. He made a census of the births of the city and finds Fifth avenue has the low st birth rate of any street in town. The heaviest birth rate is on the East Side, near Division street, where the conditions are the reverse of those in Fifth avenue.

TWO AMBULANCES

Several Doctors and Couple of Police Called. But Mr. Mason Walked Away Unassisted.

Isaac Mason, aged about 50 years, was mixed up in an accident at Fourth and Main streets, late Saturday afternoon, which came near resulting fatally. As a result several severe cuts and bruises on his head and a lacerated hand was the extent of his injuries.

Mr. Mason was on the south side of Fourth street and either wanted to board the east bound C. B. L. & N. car or intended to cross the street. At any rate he ran against the front vestibule of the car which was moving very slowly, having just stopped for a passenger on the west side of Fourth street.

He was carried to the sidewalk by several who witnessed the accident and several doctors were called. Two ambulances were soon on the scene in response to telephone calls and two policemen added their presence to the crowd of several hundred people.

After having the blood washed from his wounds and one or two bandages applied, Mason walked away from the scene of the accident and boarded a car for home.

SCHOOL BOYS

Indicted at Zanesville for Destroying Books and Ruining School House Furniture.

Zanesville, O., April 10.—Ralph Baker, a son of A. S. Baker, and Everett Okey, a son of J. W. Okey, appeared in Common Pleas court Saturday to answer to grand jury indictments charging them with depredations on the high school property.

They were each released on a $50 bond furnished by their parents.

The grand jury which adjourned Thursday evening is believed to have returned about 15 indictments against high school boys, but these are the first to be made public. The charges grow out of numberless depredations that have been committed about the Zanesville high school building during the last 18 months.

Hundreds of books have been destroyed or carried away and the furniture broken up in the night time, and the school authorities resorted to the courts in this manner to break up the practice.
